Realtime Connectors General Concept

Introduction

Realtime connectors are a set of components added to the active framework, that enables niagara based applications to connect in realtime to external services (Cloud IoT Platforms, Databases, APIs...).

Before getting deeper into the details, let's take a look at the data type that the connectors handles.

- Data Types
- How it works
- Communication mode